

Halloween Time at the Disneyland® Resort Adds Spookiness to the Sparkle of the Diamond Celebration

Guest's Favorite Hatbox Ghost Appears for the First Time in Haunted Mansion Holiday, and Space Mountain Ghost Galaxy Adds Thrills in Tomorrowland

Frightfully good fun adds to the excitement of the Disneyland® Resort Diamond Celebration as the Halloween season continues through Nov. 1. The annual, family-friendly Halloween experience includes spooky transformations of Haunted Mansion and Space Mountain, plus special décor, themed foods and merchandise. Haunted Mansion Holiday in New Orleans Square has become a thrilling Disneyland® Park Halloween tradition. Jack Skellington from the Walt Disney Pictures classic "Tim Burton's The Nightmare Before Christmas" moves into the Mansion to spark a collision between Halloween and Christmas.

As in past years, some eerie new touches have been added to the Haunted Mansion Holiday experience. The Hatbox Ghost, who recently rejoined the Mansion's happy haunts, is staying to celebrate Halloween and Christmas with Jack Skellington and his friends. Another Halloween favorite is Space Mountain Ghost Galaxy, a Halloween-themed reimagining of the popular thrill ride in Tomorrowland. Guests on board the speeding Space Mountain vehicles are thrust into a ghostly galaxy where they are bombarded with eerie screams, sound effects and music. Spine-chilling spirits pop out of the darkness, appearing to reach out and menace space travelers.

Halloween thrill-seekers will enjoy visiting Disney California Adventure® Park to sample year-round excitement on California Screamin' roller coaster, Radiator Springs Racers, Soarin' Over California and Grizzly River Run. Guests may also mingle with the ghosts in The Twilight Zone™ Tower of Terror, or dance the night away in the after-dark Diamond Mad T Party.

Important Information: This year, Mickey's Halloween Party will include "Paint the Night" parade and "Halloween Screams" fireworks. Mickey's Costume Party cavalcade will not be featured this year; "Disneyland Forever" fireworks will be presented on non-party nights.
